Sheriff Candidate For Fourth Term In Nevada County

Incumbent Bases Bid For Reelection On Wide Experience

Announcing that he seeks reelection in the coming Nevada County election is Sheriff Carl J. Tobiassen, office holder for the past 12 years and a prominent peace officer not only of the county but of the state as well.

"There is no substitute for experience" is Sheriff Tobiassen's slogan for the 1946 campaign based on the fact that he has served the county faithfully for 12 years and his organization consists of men experienced in law enforcement work ranging from 12 to 28 years. With the increasing amount of crime throughout the nation that is unprecedented in the history of the United States, Sheriff Tobiassen offers the voters of the county the continuation of his long experience he has obtained during those 12 years of experience by not only the normal routine of duties of his office but the more technical aspects of the job he feels he is well qualified for.

Born and reared near Nevada City, Tobiassen has developed his work to the progress of not only his county but his state and nation. He reared his family of five sons and one daughter, losing one son, Carl, Jr., with the 1st Marine Division during the late war. Another son, Elton, also served with Uncle Sam.

He is an outdoor man, enjoys sports and outside activities, but nevertheless has keen business knowledge and in 1939 he streamlined the work of the sheriff's office offering this branch of the law enforcement agencies a definite assignment for each man that works under him.

Sheriff Tobiassen has taken an active part in peace officers associations of the state and is now the vice president of the California State Officers' Association; he helped organize and has been a member serving as president two years of the Nevada-Sierra Peace Officers Association.

During his 12 years of experience, Tobiassen points out his office has handled thousands of prisoners and has not lost one man who was under arrest nor has the county lost any men from the county jail. Nevada County has less crime than any other county of its class in the state, he adds.

"I stand on my record of conscientious performance of faithful duties and just and impartial deliberations," the sheriff tells the voters.

We had thought that the day of "yellow" journalism was gone, but the treatment given by some papers to the tragic accident which ended the lives of 26 young men near Hobart Mills this week makes us wonder if we are right. The story itself was amply horrible without the printing of the gruesome details, but some so-called newsmen evidently are of the opinion that something may be gained for them and the profession they represent by spreading before the mothers, fathers, sisters and brothers of the young victims, word pictures which are ghastly almost to a point of exaggeration. In our opinion, these young ambitious reporters should not be permitted to write for public consumption until they have learned the fundamentals of news gathering. We are proud to say that this type of reporting is very unpopular with most newspapers and is only practiced rarely.

Our collective hats are off this week to Game Warden Bill LaMarr for the splendid work he did in the task of removing the bodies from the wreck of the army plane near Hobart Mills. Bill, who was the first to discover the wreckage, was also the last to leave the scene, spending 26 solid hours in shoulder deep snow aiding in removing the bodies to the highway.

The primary election is rapidly approaching. B sure that you are properly registered so that you can take part in this important American institution.

R. N. McCormack Seeks Support in Election Try

Based on his 39 years of experience, starting as a deputy under the late George Coughlan, R. N. "Mac" McCormack announced this week that he will again ask the voters to reelect him to the important position of county clerk and auditor of Nevada County in the June elections, which position he has held for 15 years.

Born on Gold Flat, just outside of Nevada City, he has lived in Nevada County all his life. Appointed as a deputy in 1907, McCormack has served as county clerk diligently and well, offering to the public and county officers his keen sense of business management and continued courteous and efficient service. No man is better informed as to the financial affairs of the county than McCormack, as its clerk and auditor.

As auditor he is the county's bookkeeper and every cent of money paid into the treasury has to go through his office and when it is paid out it must bear his signature.

Among other duties of the job McCormack asks reelection to are the handling of the county budget system computation of the tax rolls; clerk of the board of supervisors in which position he is called upon many times for opinions based on his many years of actual experience with the county work; clerk of the superior court, which includes the maintenance of judicial records, and registrar of voters, including all preparations for elections.

Known throughout the county just as "Mac", McCormack has been one of the leading figures at the county court house for many years and has maintained an office of knowledge of county business, keeping the records of the county at all times in good shape. His experience speaks for itself and his record is known by all citizens in the county.

26 Service Men Perish In Crash Of Army Plane

The last of the 26 bodies of the victims of one of aviation's most tragic accidents was removed from the wreckage of the Army's C-47 cargo plane one mile south west of Hobart Mills shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Under the supervision of Air Force officers here from Reno, Sacramento, Stockton and Hamilton Field, a score or more of workers spent 24 hours removing the bodies of the 26 service men from the area after the plane fell at 11:45 o'clock Tuesday morning while en route from McClellan Field, Sacramento, to Denver with a capacity load of men, most of whom were changing posts prior to discharge.

The plane reported at Donner Summit CAA station at 11:39 and a few minutes later it was heard by at least five persons as it neared Hobart Mills. Tom Dwyer, employed by the division of highways, looked up from his work as the plane appeared to have developed trouble. As he watched the ship broke apart and fell to the ground, parts and bodies being scattered over a wide area in the snow.

Floyd Reeves and D. W. Roberts, also employed on the highway crew witnessed the crash as did Mr. and Mrs. Clair Heater, caretakers at Hobart Mills.

Mrs. Sophia McLeod, in whose yard one of the bodies fell, said she did not see nor hear the crash and declined to discuss the matter further, remaining in her home as the gruesome search was conducted.

Lt. Col. Harry E. Willard, who is in command of the inquiry into the crash, said today that from his investigation the ship lost a blade of its propellor in its flight and before the propellors could be "feathered" to resist the terrific wind pressure, the vibration caused teh right wing to the plane to break off.

This was the cause of the noise which was mistaken for an explosion by witnesses, according to Col. Willard.

Heater immediately telephoned and Constable N. F. Dolley, Game Warden William LaMarr, Steve Aplin and State Patrolman William Gautsche rushed to Hobart Mills, learned the approximate location of the wreck returned to Truckee and with others went back and searched for three hours before LaMarr located the wreckage and scattered bodies.

Army officials were notified and rushed to the scene where they recruited additional assistance to bring the broken bodies out to the highway —a distance of nearly a mile. The work continued throughout the night and most of yesterday. Coroner Alvah Hooper spent yesterday here aiding in the work.

All victims were taken to a Reno mortuary.

Invaluable aid was given by Emmett Tucker's Sno-Cat, the only vehicle available which could make the trip from the highway to the scene of the disaster. It was on this ingenious rig that all the bodies were removed.

Capt. Howard Simer of Reno and Lt. Irving Swett of Stockton were in charge of the early operations with Lt. Cummings of Hamilton Field's search and rescue squad directing much of the efforts.

General Tunner, commander of the Continental Division of the ATC, was scheduled to arrive here today to make a personal investigation of the crash. He will be accompanied by Col. Malcolm Green, Jr., commander at Stockton Air Base, and Col. Robert Gowey, director of operations for the ATC.

Manager A. P. Leitch of the telephone company installed additional operators to handle the heavy volume of traffic over the lines through the investigation and search. Army officials expressed their appreciation for the fine cooperation given by all concerned, particularly to the Heaters who turned over their home as Hobart Mills headquarters. The Sierra Sun office in Truckee served as local headquarters.

State Body Warns Against Lake Use As Sewage Dump

Policy Aimed To Preserve "Pristine Beauty" Of Lake Tahoe

SACRAMENTO— The state department of public health yesterday issued a firm warning against using Lake Tahoe for disposing of raw sewage. The action was deemed necessary due to the increasing building and population.

The statement follows:

"Among subdividers on both the Nevada and California sides of Lake Tahoe pressure is building up to install community sewer systems and put the sewage in the lake.

"The policy of the state health department has for more than 30 years achieved exclusion of sewage from the lake for the sake of 'glorifying its pristine beauty' and keeping the lake a source of water supply to support the recreation of future generations.

"Though the problem is a difficult one, adherence to the same policy is intended in meeting new questions of sewer service in the increasingly congested area."

DICK LITTLE, LOCAL CIVIC LEADER, WILL CAMPAIGN FOR J. P.

Hoping to succeed C. E. Smith whose term as justice of the peace of Meadow Lake Township expires at the close of the year, R. N. "Dick" Little this week announced himself as a candidate for the post.

Little a short time ago resigned as manager of Bank of America to go into the real estate and insurance business here. He has been a resident of Truckee for the past three years and during that time has earned a legion of friends who urged him to accept the candidacy despite his earlier protests that he did not wish to enter politics.

Little owns his home here and although he could have taken another post elsewhere with the Bank of America, he preferred to remain to make Truckee his permanent residence. He has been active in chamber of commerce work and has headed the various Victory Loan Drives and other wartime agencies throughout his residence here. He is president of the Truckee Outing Club secretary of the Truckee Outdoor Sportsmen and holds office in the Lions Club.

"While it will be impossible for me to conduct an active campaign for the office, I will naturally appreciate all support given me," Little declared. "I am confident that my past experience as a banker for more than 20 years will serve to qualify me for the office. If elected I will do my utmost to justify the trust placed in me. I will serve in an unbiased, fair manner."

WARREN OFFERS HIS RECORD TO VOTERS IN BID TO KEEP POST

Governor Warren Friday announced his candidacy for reelection. His formal statement of candidacy follows:

This is the year and the season when those who serve the people of California give an accounting of their stewardship and make known their intentions for the future. I am ready to make such an accounting as the basis for seeking the governorship of my native state for a second term.

I have no new promises to make. I shall stand again upon those on which you relied in electing me four years ago—plain promises that dealt with fundamentals.

I promised, first, that I would work to bring about united effort in California during the war. I told you I would devote myself to the cause of honest, independent, humane, forward looking and financially sound government, free from petty partisanship and political manipulation. I said I would surround myself with honest and capable people and stand firmly with them against every selfish or narrow interest. I promised to reestablish the integrity of civil service, reorganize state agencies, reduce state taxes, and prepare for the future of the fastest growing and greatest State of the Union.

I have kept those promises, and I earnestly invite your careful scrutiny of my performance record.

Our state government was in the war one hunderd percent, cooperating fully with the federal government and successfully meeting every test.

In my administration of state government there has been one rule of conduct for all. I have instisted on absolute honesty in every department under my control, and have made it clear to every appointee of mine that our policy would be to hew to the line of the public interest without political favoritism or enmity toward any group or any invidual. Our special concern has always been for those who most need the helping hand of government.

I have been able to reorganize most of our state departments for broader and better public service under modern conditions. The Civil Service has been extended and released from politics. We have striven for solvency by guarding state revenues, by wiping out our bonded debt for the first time in history, by financing the construction needs of our state institutions up to 1950, by keeping a balanced budget, and by reducing the burden of state taxation to the extent of two hundred and twenty-five million dollars.

If you believe in these things, and in my honesty of purpose in trying to achieve them, if you believe my training and my experience will insure continued accomplishment, then I shall feel justified in asking your support for another term—during which state problems will be even more complex, and require more careful handling, than during the war.

State programs that will speed housing, help veterans, stimulate industry, agriculture and employment, advance health and safety, improve education, develop natural resources, protect older persons and the helpless—these are not mere party problems. They are problems that must be dealt with by administrators who are thinking only in terms of the happiness and welfare of all our people in their homes, at their work and at their leisure—regardless of pressure either right or left. This is not always an easy thing to do, but it is always the proper thing to do.

I am a Republican, but, as has been the practice with candidates for California state office for thirty years, I shall seek the support of the people of both parties who believe in this kind of approach to state government. I can do this honorably, because I am independent, and, therefore, in a position to serve the pepole fairly regardless of their politics or mine.

I am not interested in machine politics. I hae not tried to build a political machine. No man should be permitted to be both governor and a political boss. I am not running because of the insistence of any group. I am running as an individual Californian who would rather serve the people of his state than do any other thing. My one and only allegiance is to them.

I shall campaign as vigourously as time and my duties permit. I shall start from scratch to develop an organization of citizens to help me during this campaign—just as I did four years ago. I will need the support of every independent Cailfornian, and I shall be most grateful for it.

California Second Largest State, Says Statistician

SACRAMENTO— California is now probably the largest state in the Union, Victor W. Killick, chief statistician of the Motor Vehicle Department, told a group of economists recently. Last release of the Census bureau showed Pennsylania second to New York with a population of 9,249,000. Killick based his preduction on a careful study of various indices of growth, to which he has access.

California ranked second to New York in the sales of Series "E" governmen bonds from May, 1941, through December, 1945. New York led all other states with a total of $4,834,219,273 during that period while California was next with $3,205,452,482.

A Sermon

Looking Ahead

AMERICA has three big F's. They stand for farm, factory and finance. They cover the nation and make it what it is. As to stability, they are as dependent on each other as the legs of a stool. If one goes down, they all topple. And here is a wonder of all time: Why are these three classes suspicious of each other? Why do they so consistently work against each other?

When is the agricultural industry prosperous? The answer is plain to any observing farmer: Farmers have a quick market for all they produce, at good prices, only when factory workers are very largely employed at good wages. Laborers constitute a big class and they work hard. When they have good jobs they eat well, cover their tables with the best of what farmers sell.

Christian Principle HERE is where the preaching starts: Since farm prosperity depends on good wages at factories, it is in every farmer's interest to work for the healthy welfare of labor. Why then does the political Farm Bloc concern itself so avidly with class legislation instead of working for the thing that always helps the farmer — namely, labor's sound advancement?

This is definitely a Christian teaching. The illustrious Paul, who wrote most of the New Testament, said "Do not take account of your own interests, but the interests of others as well." Moreover the rule is not confined to the farm for its application. It is just as righteous and just as practical for the use of working men who want to improve their living standards. Thus:

Brilliant Strategy WHEN do laborers enjoy steady work at high wages? Answer: Labor prospers when men of wealth are putting out their money, expanding old businesses and building new ones. Of course it is for their own gain but it pays the workers. Mystery: Why don't labor's leaders do their best to make investments attractive? Such strategy is the only way to higher and higher wages.

Returns to employers respond to the same rule. Factory owners sell 80% of all they make to laborers and farmers. These men wear good clothes, drive good cars and modernize their homes when they can afford it. Any financier, able to see which side of his bread is buttered, knows where profits come from. They come from prosperous farmers and well paid workers.

If the three big F's would look out for one another; if employers never exploited labor; if farmers did not envy capitalists; if workers never used intimidation, prosperity would certainly follow. It would be for us all. The code that Jesus upheld in the Sermon on the Mount 2,000 years ago is still good. Communism, envy, greed and violence can't live in the climate with applied Christianity.

JUDGE KNIGHT GETS APPROVAL STAMP FROM BAY G. O. P.

SAN FRANCISCO— The San Francisco County Republican Central Committee was on record today with "full, unqualfiied endorsement" of Superior Judge Goodwin J. Knight for lieutenant governor, it was announced by Chairman Herbert Hanley, who stated:

"We in San Francisco have complete confidence in the record and integrity of Judge Knight. We realize that today more than ever before we need men in public office of ability, courage and foresight. Judge Knight fulfills these qualified endorsement to Judge Knight for lieutenant governor."

A graduate of Stanford University, Judge Knight interripted his college career during World War I to enlist in the U. S. Navy. He saw considerable action during 19 months served as a seaman aboard a submarine chaser, and since has taken active interest in California veterans affairs.

Knight is filing on both the Republican and Democratic tickets. The only other announced candidate is State Senator Jack Shelley, San Francisco bakery wagon driver and president of the San Francisco Labor Council.

MY PLACE in the SUN

by DOUG BARRETT

In covering the tragic army aircraft wrck at Hobart Mills, something I have always recognized was again vividly brought to my attention. Thaeo is the marvelous efficiency and courtesy of the telephone company. We and other working newsmen had occasion to strain to a nar breaking point the facilities of the local office but Manager Art Leitch and his girls kept the calls going through and at the same time handled all the official calls without a hitch or delay and with the maximum of courtesy. For myself and for every person that used their utility, I make a sweeping bow to the Truckee office of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company for a rough job smoothly handled.

Today it is not as apparent as it usually is at this tim of year, due to an "unusual" spring storm, but there is a definite need for a revival of the community clean up committee here in town. The committee did, as I recall, great work before the war in getting debris and ramshackle old building carted away. These eyesores are crying out again for someone to rip them down and make this a town as beautiful and pleasant to look upon as the country surrounding it. The Sanitary Board is doing a cracker-jack job with their end in keeping garbage cans emptied and clean but some one else is needed and from our past experience, it looks like it might be the clean-up committee.

Street Seens: The Sierra Sun office so loaded with visiting press and army Tuesday peeyem I couldn't find my desk....Keith Weeden work-to get the California buffet in shape ....Paul Kidwell thankful for the new snow....Hugh Carter fueling up for his morning flight to Gateway Garage....Ralph Graham sweating it out as first on the board....Ametta Cabona hustling to Eastern Star on Tuesday eve....Ethel Buell swishing snow off her windshield with an umbrella....Frank Kinne, with fire in his eye, seeking Roy Waters—only a false alarm....a fleet of amphib ducks invading Truckee....Ernie DeLisle's place looks like a Chinese restaurant with the "DFE" blacked out of "GOODFELLOW'S" on the neon sign....a couple of the gazing wistfully at the recruiting posters in front of the Mason's meetin' hall—wondering if they'd fit in the trash can they're in front of.

March 18, 1946

To The People of Nevada County . .

Having declared my intentions to be a candidate for Superior Judge, I submit briefly as my qualifications and fitness for the highest office in the the gift of the citizens of our county.

I established my office in the county January 1, 1916, and have since continuously practiced here and ten years prior in San Francisco, appearing in all courts.

After being fairly well acquainted with the greater portion of the United States, I selected this county in which to live, work, play and spend the remainder of my life.

During my thirty years of continuous practice and residence, I was District Attorney twelve consecutive years. As legal advisor of the county officers, and prosecutor, I became intimately acquainted with the conditions and advantages of the county and thoroughly familiar with the legal and practical application of the Juvenile Court Laws and provisions. Being city attorney for several years, I became well acquainted with the many legal problems of incorporated and unincorporated cities and towns.

In addition to my legal work, I have devoted available time and finances to all causes, the objects of which were to aid the educational, social, industrial and recreational conditions and the development of the natural resources of Nevada County.

Respectfully,

W. E. Wright

TAHOE LETTER To The Servicemen

From SWANEE

Tahoe City, California.
March 17, 1946

Dear Tahoeites:

This has been a gloriius day, this Sunday St. Patrick's Day! The sun shone most of the time, although for a while it looked like a storm might be brewing as clouds poured over the southwestern range. But tonight the moon is shining out across the quiet lake waters and the surrounding snow covered hills are almost as bright as day.

Numerous cars visited the area today, as well as over the weekend with several buses of San Francisco telephone girls, just transferred out to the west coast from the east, numbering 75. Six of them were driven to Reno on Saturday night to see the sights in Carl Wheat's station wagon and a marvelous time was reported by all. On Sunday at 11 a.m. Father Dosch of Truckee came to Tahoe and held mass for a large congregation of guests and visitors, thefirst time this has ever happened.

Carl Bechdolt Sr. was brought home from St. Mary's Hospital in Reno on Sunday and was put to bed to rest He was taken seriously ill on Friday and rushed to the hospital for a physical checkup, x-rays and medical treatment. He has been ordered to take life easier and is on a diet.

Had the great pleasure on Saturday to meet our new neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Beckman of Lodi, who were accompanied to Tahoe over the weekend by Mr. and Mrs. Basil Kehoe, also of the city. The Beckmans are the new owners of the former Harris cottage in Timberland, built some years ago by Fred Kilner Learned from Mrs. Beckman that Mrs. Harris passed away some time last year, and that Elliott Morse father of Homewood's Mrs. J. Carroll Skinner, had died three months ago. Mrs. Skinner's sister, Mrs. Genevieve Roberts of San Francisco, well known at Tahoe, is critically ill. It is with real regret we learned of these facts and wish to offer our sincere sympathy and that of the family's many old friends and neighbors in the Tahoe area. The Roberts and the Skinners were ardent motorboat fans in Tahoe's earlier days and were prominent in the annual regattas sponsored by the Tahoe Boat Club here.

Also heard recently that Hall Ross of San Mateo, owner of the former Clark estate, Guth-A-Win-Ga in the Sunnyside district here, is seriously ill and has been for some time past.

Had a most cheerful letter last week from our Timberland neighbors who winter at their lovely home in Santa Barbara, the Earl F. Walkers Both are instructors in the schools of that city. They told af a recent welcome visit from Mr. and Mrs. Norman Mayfield of Tahoe City who spent a week in the southern city on vacation. Said their daffodils are all through blooming but the garden now has stock, petunias, ping freesias and other lovely flowers in abundance And we can't even see the ground yet! They may drive to Tahoe during the Easter vacation and are looking forward to a long, welcome vacation at their Tahoe cottage this summer.

Just received word of my little fried, the Okinawa Kid, Donnie Prusso, who is now at a Guam hospital, recuperating from an operation which was scheduled to have taken place on Friday of last week. Mastitis was the cause of all his trouble and we truly hope he is well on the road to recovery by now. His mom wrote Ray Prusso today that she had a short note from Don but he failed to mention just how he was but he expects to remain in the hospital for several weeks yet. He supposes he will be returned to Okinawa upon recovery. His mom said that latest information regarding Marines states that by May 1st required points will drop to 33 and since Don has around 37 he should be eligible for discharge, and home, by the middle of April.

That new little daughter of the Sherwood Prussos has been given a name, Judith Dianne. Helen leaves the hospital with Judy today and will remain with her folks in Clearwater until able to return to the lake. Sherwood will probably leave for Tahoe around the middle of the week, much to the relief of brother Ray, who is somewhat lonely.

The Floyd Carnells had aontehr letter from their son T-5 Dick Carnell now enroute home from Austria. He wrote on February 20th and stated that within a few days his outfit would leave for Linz, Austria, where they would be processed and join up with the 83rd Division. They would all leave around March 8th for the boat ride home and should be in New York, barring bad weather or other complications, today. He anticipated being home for good around the last of March or the first of April. After a few days rest here his mom plans to rush him right down to Beverly Hills where his maternal grandmother Mrs. Charles Krueger, lies seriously ill.

Captain Oliver Corona of Tahoe Park, recently returned from overseas duty to reside with his mother, Mrs Katherine Corona, holds the distinction of owning the first civilian jeep in these parts, having acquired his sturdy little scootmobile on Wednesday of last week in Sacramento. The Coronas went to the capitol city on Monday where they were guests of Mrs. Dora Bondi. A dinner was given in their honor on Tuesday night, attended by members of the family and friends. The Coronas declare that their jeep affords quick, comfortable transportation and was a welcome find since no desirable cars are to be found on the market at this time. They plan to install a heater as soon as procurable.

Most of the conversation around Tahoe this Monday morning is about the ski meet held at Mt. Rose on Saturday and Sunday last. Confusion chagrin and downright disgust is being voiced by many, since both Auburn and Tahoe Ski Clubs were "scratched" and not permitted to enter competition. This was advertised as a stae championship meet, but there is much misunderstanding regarding many details of its conduct Some thought out-of-state contestants should not be allowed but this is in error as anyone is eligible to enter. The excuse given by the officials in charge was that the local lads would find the stiff ocurse too hard to negotiate. Understand that Roy Mikkelsen of the Auburn Club is quite aggravated over the whole business and plans to seek a clarification of the entire matter.

As for the Tahoe contestants who entered the tournament, they failed to find themselves competing but certainly had a good time on the hospitality of the Reno Ski Club. The boys were allotted comfortable quarters, with bath, in a Reno motel and all attended the banquet held in Reno Saturday night. From Tahoe were Al Henry, Bob Stark, Howard Carnell, Bette Wheat and Jack and Kathleen Starratt. Al Henry had the misfortune to injure his ankle and leg in pratcice on the Reno hill on Thursday and would have been out of the running anyway.

Spectators who attended the meet from Tahoe on the special Greyhound bus on Sunday reported a high rate of accidents on both days, with Miss Lois Post, sister of Dodie Post, receiving a badly injured leg, broken in three places, when run into by another skier. The Post sisters are well known at Tahoe where they visit frequently at the A. M. Anderson home. Experienced skiers reporeted the courses icy, steep and full of ruts

Wind this letter up for another week and trust it finds you in good health and spirits and looking forward to a pleasant summer, as spring days loom just ahead. Here's good luck and happy days and may God be with you always, As ever,

SWANEE

Tahoe Red Cross Drive Progressing Says Chief

TAHOE CITY— Mrs. Evelyn Bliss. vacationing in Auburn for the winter writes that the Tahoe Red Cross fund drive is progressing fairly well, with many strictly sumer residents especially generous. The hometown folks are asked to send their contributions by mail as soon as possible to Mrs. Bliss at Auburn.

Mrs. Bliss announces also that, contrary to a previous report, Tahoe's quota is $1,500 not $1,400. She is hoping Tahoe residents will send the total far above the announced quota by their traditional generosity to a worthy cause.

A highlight of her recent visit to San Francisco with friends was getting to see Oklahoma for which tickets appear to be at a premium.

Mrs. Goss, hostess, served birthday cakes and other delicious refreshments. Miss Shirley Ables and her brother, Pete, were judged the best jitterbugging dancers of the evening.

GOVERNOR SIGNS FOREST FARMING BILL WITH PRAISE

SACRAMENTO—Gov. Earl Warren said this week that "the present generation is the trustee of California's natural resources for our children and their children" and predicted a new reforestation program would be effective in restoring the state's timber wealth.

The governor signed a bill appropriating $2,000,000 for acquiring cutover lands and some virgin timber. Both reforestation and scientific logging practices will be studied under the cooperative management of the State Division of Forestry and the University of California School of Forestry.

Professor Emmanuel Fritz, dean of the forestry school, pointed out at the bill-signing ceremony that $500,000 has been appropriated for establishing a forestry products laboratory at the university. The money was included in Governor Warren's $154,000,000 post war building program designed to "bring our state institutions up to date and provide for needs up to 1951."

Warren T. Hannum, director of natural resources, said that the Division of Forestry "can now become a real forestry organization. "Previously he said, "it has been just a fire suppression agency."

The people of one generation, Governor Warren declared, "do not have the right to dissipate California's timber resources. It is proper that we should harvest the crop of timber as it matures, but the basic resource muet be preserved for our children."

He added that the new state program is intended to assist the private enterppise lumber industry in making its future supply of logs secure. Under the new legislation, counties in which the state buys timber lands will be reimbursed for the loss of tax values from their assessment rolls.

Capitol Week

by DOUGLAS JAQUES
United Press Staff Correspondent

SACRAMENTO, March 14 —(UP)— Here in the capitol and throughout the state, government officials today were rubbing their hands together and saying, "We're in the money—the big money."

And they could say it, too.

This week a total of $175,157,335 was appropriated from state funds, income yet to be received and—some feared—from the red ink column.

?And prior to this week's bill signing, there have been such allocations as $90,400,000 to cities and counties, $7,500,000 for veterans' temopary housing, $7,000,000 for a medical center at UCLA, and so on.

The biggest slice of the $175,157,335 was contained in the $154,000,000 state construction bill. The University of California got $30,000,000 of it, the department of hygiene, $57,000,000, the department of corrections, $12,000, and numerous other departments received sizeable chunks.

Other bills contributing to the bounteous handouts were:

An appropriation of $10,000,000 for flood control to be used for state participation in the federal program for California.

A $1,000,000 slice to the University of California for agricultural research.

An allocation of $2,020,000 to assist distressed school districts.

An $2,000,000 handout for farm labor housing.

A construction allocation of $820,000 for the California veterans' home at Yountville—which is in addition to $2,254,000 eramarked for Yountville from the $154,000,000 bill and $300,000 previously appropriated for a women's unit there.

An appropriation of $2,000,000 for state acquisition of forest lands.

And there wer half a dozen other bills for "small" sums—a hundred thousand or so.

Other legislation which became law during the week through Governor Earl Warren's signature which was not primarily concerned with money included a bill to consolidate scattered state agencies handling veterans matters into a single department.

The new department of veterans affairs, which will come into existence May 21, replaces the former department of military and veterans affairs. National guard administration, formerly included, will go into a new agency.

Thomas Riordan, present director of military and veterans affairs, has asked to be replaced and a new man therefore, will be selected to take charge of the reorganized department

Other veterans bills signed give 10 points to able-bodied veterans and 15 points to those disabled who are desirous of filling state civil service jobs, and allow veterans six months after discharge before they need to report to their jobs if they are on military leave from public offices.

The capitol learned that it is losing one of its veterans. Richard E. Collins of Redding, who has been a member of the board of equalization for 40 years, announced he is withdrawing his candidacy because of ill health. Previously he said he would campaign for the 11th straight time to represent again 25 northern California counties on the board.

State Senator Jerrold L. Seawell Roseville Republican and president pro tempore of the senate, completed filing candidacy papers this week to run for Collins' position on both the Republican and Democratic tickets.

NEVADA CITY MAN IS CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS IN VOTE

A. W. "Andy" Rogers, carpenter and builder of Nevada City, who thinks while he works, has filed as a candidate for representative in Congress from the Second District. Of Republican registration, he has filed for the Republican nomination and cross filed for the Democratic nomination. In an interview here, Rogers stated that he would canvass the entire district between now and the June primary—and bring a message.

Rogers, long a union man with AFL affiliations, has constituted himself something a nemesis relative to labor racketeering and to waste and graft in public affairs, particularly on public construction projects. As a war worker he was oftimes appalled at the callous waste of the people's money which came to his notice and began taking notes. The result was that he has accumulated a huge mass of affidavit supported evidence. This he has offered repeatedly to various inhpecting and prosecuting agencies. However, professions of interest and promises of inestigations have largely come to nothing. Out of this he has involved a sort of slogan: "Investigate the investigators."

Last year, on his own initiative and at his own expense, he took his case to Washington. There he was permitted to appear before the House Committee on War Activities and to tell a small part of his story of waste. He also managed to penetrate the Department of Justice, where he was given a hearing by a minor official, Attorney General Tom Clark not being available. Later that official sent a letter which reached Rogers in Nevada City asking him to repeat his visit to the department. Several committee chairmen were also contacted.

A complete stranger in Washington and with only ten days at his disposal, ogers, by refusing to be shunted or placated, came into considerable note in official circles. This experience was the prompting motive in his decision to seek a seat in the House of Congress.

Rogers came to this district a few years ago from the San Francisco peninsula to build his home. Wherever he has lived he has been a leader of citizen movements against what he considers the arbitrary and unjust treatment of the peopel by powerful minorities.

Two Placer Incumbents Asking for Reelection

AUBURN— Two more Placer county officials hae formally filed for reelection this week.

S. Guy Lukens, county assessor since 1926, will seek retention on the basis of his record. He also holds the position of chief of Auburn's fire department and has been active in the department for 40 years.

Coroner Francis E. West of Colfax, who was appointed in 1936 to fill a vacancy and has twice been reelected, is making another bid for the office in the June primary. In addition to his duties as coroner and public administrator, he has twice been temporary sheriff of Placer county during his terms in office. He filled the post between the deaths of Elmer Gum and Charles Silva and the time their successors were named by the county supervisors.

LET'S WORK FOR INDUSTRIAL PEACE

Men want to work.

Management wants to produce.

The public wants to buy.

The country wants prosperity.

Yet good times have been held up by an agony of strikes.

Strikes breed bitterness . . . hunger . . . and economic stagnation.

For the sake of our country, let's change this! Change it fast. Time is running out!

Let's work out a way to get — and keep — industrial peace and prosperity.

THE FIRST STEP

Isn't a sound national labor policy . . . one that treats workers and management exactly alike and above all one that is fair to the public . . . the first step toward that peace?

Sincerely believing this to be so, we offer this program for peace and production and prosperity:

1. Make employers and unions equal in responsibility under the law.

2. Let Congress set the rules for genuine collective bargaining, free from coercion and violence, and then let government enforce these rules with strict impartiality.

3. Provide safeguards for the public against strikes or boycotts arising from disputes between unions.

4. Insure against strikes until all orderly procedures for settling disputes have been exhausted.

Your representatives in Congress have the power to establish this pattern for an enduring and a fair labor peace. Let them know how you feel about it. Urge them to act promptly on legislation to include these four points.

Time alone won't bring industrial peace. Doing nothing won't bring it. Positive action is the only way. For your own sake and for the future of our country, let your voice be heard!

FREE! A timely, authoritative booklet entitled "The Public and Industrial Peace," gives full details of this program, including specific suggestions for legislation. It is a useful handbook for every citizen, program chairman, or group leader. A postcard brings it. Address: National Association of Manufacturers, 14 West 49th Street, New York 20, N. Y.

Dear Sir:

This is an appeal to you for help in informing the people of your community of the importance of observing the law of the State of California regarding the preservation of our native plants, shrubs and trees.

Scetion 384-A of the Penal Code states that it is unlawful to cut, mutiliate, remove or destroy native plants, shrubs or trees, etc., growing along public highways or on privately owned land without written permit from the owner.

This law is enforceable by any peace officer and violation of it is punishable by a fine not to exceed $200 or imprisonment for six months, or both.

California wild flowers are world famous. They are being destroyed and some face extinction because of the vandalism of our people, consciously or unconsciously.

We ask your help in bringing the substance of this law and the penalty for its violation before the public with an appeal for its strict observance.

Help keep the highways and byways of the State as beautiful as Nature made them. Help prevent the unlawful destruction or removal of our wild flowers.

Mrs. Walter G. Brendel, President.
Mrs. Walter C. Hardman, Conseration Chairman.
Mrs. Walter R. Lovegrove, California Native Flora Chairman.

MIAMI LEGION POST SOLVES HOUSING PROBLEM FOR 1,000

MIAMI, Fla.—In a move to relieve the local housing shortage, Harvey W. Seeds Post 29 of the American Legion has won authority to operate 270 Dallas-type huts at the Miami Army Air Field. More than 1,000 ex-G. I.'s will live in the huts, according to M. S. Altmayer, chairman of the post delegation that presented its project to the Dade county commission.

Altmayer said the commission authorized the move when the American Legion post agreed to assume all liability.

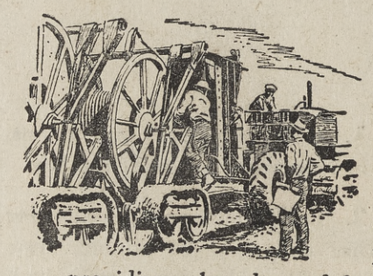
Big expansion program under way to speed your calls



This year alone, as part of a $400,000,000 five-year expansion program, more than 200,000 miles of new toll and long distance circuits are planned for the Pacific Coast.

For we're on our way to providing a broader and faster long distance service than you have ever had before.

Everything possible is being done to expand long distance facilities now and to prepare the way for many new improvements to come. We handled more than 346 million toll and long distance calls in 1945 — nearly a million a day — and we're gearing up to handle an ever increasing volume as the West continues to grow through the years to come.

Contractors Pledge Low Profits in Building Boom

LOS ANGELES— With California's biggest building boom expected to get underway as soon as materials are available, the state's contractors have pledged limited profits for new construction in an effort to combate inflation.

This was disclosed at a meeting of the Building Contractors' Association of California here, at which the limited profits pledge was made in resolution form, according to an announcement by the association president, E. C. Moller.

In the resolution, Moller announced contractors agreed to control the selling price of new homes, basing the price on actual building costs, including overhead, and a profit of not more than 10 per cent.

SEAWELL HAS GOOD RECORD ON VETS' BILLS IN SENATE

State Senator Jerrold L. Seawell of Roseville, who filed papers this week as a candidate on both Republican and Democratic tickets for the third board of equalization, played a large part in enacting much legislation for veterans at the recent special legislative session.

Among the veterans measures signed by the governor which Seawell, as president pro tem of the senate materially helped along were those increasing the allowable veterans loans on homes to $7500 and farms to $13,500; reorganizing the State Veterans' Welfare Department to speed processing of claims, and permitting the reduction of the interest rate to 2½ percent on the purchase of homes and farms, also many bills which will assist the veteran to secure employment.

Seawell was the autnor of a bill to grant on-sale liquor licenses to American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Disabled American Veterans and Spanish-American Veterans posts, which have been in existence for one year. The privilege is solely for the use of their memberships.

"If the voters of the 25 northern California counties elect me to the state board, I will continue to vote and act in the interests of veterans of the two World Wars, as their problems are affected by the board," Seawell said.
